

Credibility of Uzbekistan grows

In the information space and the expert community of Uzbekistan raise great interest the article of the managing director of the consulting company "Corsair LLC" James Durso, published in the popular monthly American publication "Real Clear World" under the heading "Uzbekistan takes a new start" .

In the context of this article, it seems advisable to analyze the development of state policy in the country, revealing the systemic approach of the President of Uzbekistan to the processes of reforming all spheres of life of the state and society.