

Shavkat Mirziyoyev pays tribute to the great service of Karim Kamalov

President Shavkat Mirziyoyev has visited the late Karim Kamalov's home in Bukhara and condoled with his wife and children, wished them strength and will in overcoming the loss.

The head of state noted the merits of the deceased in ensuring the well-being of people.

"Karim-aka [addendum implying respect for a person - trans.] was a bright person with a great heart and exceptional hard work. His input into the efforts to transform Bukhara has been enormous. And he planned to do much more. Honest and faithful, not sparing himself, Mr. Kamalov worked for the good of the people. The injustice he suffered once and the thorny days thereafter could not help but affect his health, too. Our nation will never forget his selfless service," Shavkat Mirziyoyev said.

Then the President traveled to the Bahouddin Naqshband Mausoleum outside Bukhara, and surahs from the Koran were read out.
